hello@womentalkconstruction

Christi Powell has worked in the commercial and residential construction industry for over 30 years and is the Women Business Enterprise Lead for a national building supply company. She finds fulfillment in making an impact with inclusivity in the construction, manufacturing, and industrial industries. Christi holds several National awards, such as Women of influence, WBE Advocate, Groundbreakers, Business Excellence, Changemaker, and served as 2023 ABC National IDE Judge. She serves on several boards to increase awareness of the value of women needed in the industry while bringing her business acumen and strong leadership skills to support change. Her favorite mantra is "We can change the world one gentle conversation at a time". Christi believes that people who are vulnerable, authentic, connected, and committed are the ones who will make a difference, no matter their industry.

Angela Gardner

Gardner has more than 28 years of experience in the construction sector and currently leads Hill Electric as the Director of Business Development and Marketing. She has worked in the residential, industrial, and commercial construction sectors. She has experience in startups, family businesses, entrepreneurship, networking groups, business development and mentorship. A large part of her success has come through building relationships. She loves supporting women through their non-traditional journeys. Gardner was named 2020 South Carolina Women in Business for Construction Marketing, Groundbreakers, Women of Influence 2023, and served as 2023 ABC National IDE Judge. She serves on several boards to increase awareness of the value of women needed in nontraditional roles, along with other expertise.
